The first Latvian IT community driven conference,

Wildcard 2013

On the 13th of September local IT user groups will host the first Latvian IT community driven event, in Jurmala, Latvia.

Wildcard is a social event specially intended for everyone who is developing any of Information Technology areas nowadays. It is the first conference in Latvia that will mark a new trend in Baltic region resulting soon in a tradition.

The motto of the conference is "Everybody is invited", which evokes the scope of it: gathering the professionals involved in each part of IT.

We will have talks on most actively developing areas of software industry. They are grouped in five tracks: engineering, databases, testing, Web & Mobile and Agile & DevOps. There are guests invited from the international and national arena in every track. Sten Vesterli, Ami Aharonovich, Heli Helskyaho, Maaret Pyhajarvi and Antti Niittyviita will be among the main speakers for the conference. The place for the conference was particularly chosen for its great atmosphere and socialization resources

Wildcard conference 2013 will be held in Baltic Beach SPA and Resort Hotel, Jūrmala, Jūras iela 23/25. The conference entrance fee will be announced soon; coffee breaks and snacks will be offered.

The language of presentations will be English.
